

— The Story —

David Grunfeld of Prose Solutions needed resolution for a large-scale editing project.

Prose Solutions is a copywriting, editing, proofreading, and translation company based in Dubai, UAE. The company works in both English and Arabic, and demand runs high for its services. The pressure of turnover drove David Grunfeld to look for editing support for his company.

— The Goal —

High demand for his company's time-sensitive work necessitated a no-nonsense business partner.

For Grunfeld, flexibility was a must. "I needed the ability to scale up or down to adapt to the diverse and unpredictable needs of my client," he recalls. "It was also critical to have fast turnaround, tight quality control, and reasonable rates."

— The Solution —

Prose Solutions outsourced to Scribendi, forming a successful partnership.

Scribendi is used to dealing with busy clients, and they always deliver. "Although it was quite a tricky project," Grunfeld recalls, "the Scribendi team maintained its professional approach, efficient service, and positive attitude."
